

REBELS PURCHASE CLOTHING HERE; SPEND $1,000,000

Agent Estimates that 80,000 Mexicans in Field Have Been Equipped.

More than $1,000,000 have been spent in El Paso by the purchasing agents of the "Constitutionalist" army for uniforms and furnishings for the army, exclusive of the food supplies, forage and other equipment.

One of the purchasing agents estimates the number of men equipped at 80,000, of which number 10 percent were officers. This drain on the local wholesale supply houses has depleted the stocks and it has been necessary to send to New York for additional supplies. Tuesday an order for 50,000 uniforms was placed with a New York uniform company. The average cost of a common soldier's equipment in the rebel army is the purchasing agents say. The officers' equipment costs more, as their complete outfit amounts to $12 each. This is exclusive of blankets, canteens, rifles and ammunition.

Uniforms Complete (Except Sox).

The complete furnishings of a rebel soldier includes a felt hat, a khaki uniform, leggings, pair of shoes (not a sock), a cotton shirt and cotton undershirt. The hat is known to the trade as the "Belmont" and is sold to the army for $1 each wholesale, in large quantities. The officers' hat is of better grade and is lighter in color. It sells for $2.50 gold. The leggings furnished to enlisted men are the same pattern used by the American soldiers and cost $1.50 a dozen pairs.

The officers are given leather puttees which cost $2.50 a pair. The plain yellow or green khaki uniform suit which the soldiers wear costs $2.50 a suit. The suits of the officers are of olive drab worsted cloth, very much like the winter fatigue uniform of the American officer. These suits cost from $12 to $15, depending upon the grade of the goods.

Shoes Heavy and Stout.

Shoes furnished the common soldier are as good as those issued to the United States army. They cost $3.50 a pair wholesale and are good, stout tan shoes. The officers shoes cost $2.50. No riding boots are furnished and must be bought by the officers from their pay. Hinge cotton shirts are issued to the men and cost $1.50 a dozen. The officers get better shirts costing $1 each wholesale. Underwear costs $4.50 a dozen pairs for the men and is the cheap grade of underwear. Officers' underwear is of better grade, costing $12.50 a dozen suits. Sox are given to the officers, but none are worn by the men when they buy them from their pay. Blankets are bought for $7 a pair and issued to the men who did not bring their blankets or who lost theirs. Blankets have become worn. Officers receive a better grade of blankets, costing $5 a pair.

It is estimated that 20,000 men have been supplied in El Paso during the past month. Great bales and boxes of clothing have been taken across the river from the El Paso wholesale stores to dress up the "Constitutionalist" army for its grand entry into Mexico City.

CARBAJAL ENVOYS REACH VERACRUZ

Veracruz, Mex., July 29.—Gen. Lauro Villar and David Gutierrez, Aliende, president Carbalja's delegates to the peace conference with Carranza, arrived here Tuesday. They were unwilling to proceed direct from Mexico City to San Luis Potosi, for fear of capture by Gen. Pascual Orozco's forces who were reported operating in that district. They will go as soon as possible to Tampico.

The special peace delegates were instructed by president Carbalja to insist upon the granting of an amnesty and the recognition of the regular army as it was at the time of the overthrow of the Madero administration. They also were instructed to inform the "Constitutionalist" of the provisional president's willingness to turn the government over to the "Constitutionalist," but the president argues that he be permitted to name some "Constitutionalist" chief of the army, and that the army could designate a minister of foreign affairs and who, upon senior Carbalja's retirement, would automatically become provisional president of Mexico. These terms are the only ones upon which president Carbalja insisted.

FERRO RETURNS TO JUAREZ AFTER DAY IN EL PASO

Comes With Robles, Registers Under an Assumed Name, Takes Bath.

Orders from the state department in Washington are said to have been transmitted through the war department, that no rebel officers are to be molested by the army when they cross the line to the American side in civilian clothes. This is said to have been known by Rodolfo Ferro, who came to El Paso Tuesday and spent the day at the Hotel Sheldon. He was accompanied by Gen. Yabel, a black, two aides and an automobile driver.

Register Under Assumed Names. Ferro and Robles registered at the hotel under assumed names, but made no effort to conceal their identities as they straggled about the hotel lobby, shook hands with friends and spent money lavishly at the bar and in tipping the bellboys and automobile drivers. Both men were freshly shaven and were dressed in new Norfolk suits, tan hats and silk shirts. They occupied rooms with baths attached and made use of the bathing facilities as if to promulgate the long time between baths which was necessary by the rigors of war.

Go to Priest's Room. Ferro made one mistake at the hotel that came near causing him trouble Tuesday afternoon. He started to his room, but became confused and got off at the wrong floor. He entered the room of two Spanish priests who had been expelled from Mexico by order of Ferro's chief. The little priest ordered Ferro from the room and threatened to put him out if he did not go promptly. The bellboys say.

The two rebel commanders left the hotel Tuesday evening and returned to the Mexican side in automobiles which had come for them and which were driven by Mexican rebel soldiers. Ferro was back in El Paso Wednesday.

MANY EXECUTIONS IN REMOTE PLACES

Conditions are far from settled in the interior of Mexico, where Americans returning from the south. In the larger towns the military is keeping order, but in the smaller settlements there is little law and less order, they say. Executions of civilians occur almost nightly. The American military ranches have been seized and are being worked by the military commanders in the outlying districts. American properties are not being molested, but the American military men are being encouraged to return and reopen their mines. But the feeling against the United States is still strong in the districts that are distant from the railroad, the Americans say.

At Parral, Luis Herrera, a Villa man, gave him orders. He ordered three petty traffickers executed, the refugees say. The execution was about to take place when Maclovio Herrera, his brother, jumped into an automobile, ran over a post in the road, and finally reached the place of execution in time to stop it. This resulted in a big row between the two brothers, which only ended when the three men were finally executed.

Maclovio Herrera is also said to have threatened to take his brigade to Veracruz and drive the Americans out of that port. He said to Americans that the "gringos" would have to leave Mexico at once or he would drive them out.

OBREGON REPORTS MORE VICTORIES

Douglas, Ariz., July 29.—Victories for the "Constitutionalist" army at La Piedad and Colima were reported Tuesday by Gen. Alvaro Obregon in a telegram to Ven. C. Leloy, rebel agent here. He stated the federalists were found strongly entrenched at La Piedad, which is between Guadalajara and Mexico City. Gen. Obregon reported a nine hour battle ending in the flight of the federalists, who left 61 dead and 14 wounded.

"We captured many prisoners," the telegram says. "We took with us ammunition and the paymaster's safe." The other fight occurred when federalists at Mazamitlan, believed to be the garrison which evacuated Guaymas, attempted to retake Colima. Just behind Mazamitlan, which was captured by "Constitutionalist" a few days ago.

MAJ. PLANK ESCAPES; 13 MEXICANS DEPORTED

Nogales, Ariz., July 29.—Maj. Carlos Plank, arrested in Hermosillo on a charge of uttering threats against governor Mxyorena, has escaped and reached Nogales. He will likely remain here.

Thirteen Mexicans were deported Tuesday morning, among them Cipriano Lucero, who was chief of police at Guaymas when two sailors from the cruiser California were killed at that port last winter. Lucero is held in custody here on a charge of confederating a man in Arizona about 20 years ago.

WIFE OF REBEL CHIEF SURGEON DIES IN EL PASO HOSPITAL

Mrs. A. Villareal, wife of the "Constitutionalist" chief surgeon, was taken to the hospital here Tuesday afternoon suffering from an attack of typhoid fever which was contracted in the Torreon district.

Gen. Eusebio Aguirre Benavides, who has been ill with typhoid fever in and El Paso hospital, is reported to be recovering rapidly.

EL PASOANS ACTED JUST IN TIME FOR CANTALOUPE MEN

Telegram From Herald and Business Men of El Paso Gets Reduction.

That the telegram of El Paso business men asking for a reduction of the minimum carload weight on cantaloupes from 24,000 pounds to 20,000 pounds had its effect with the commission, is evidenced by a telegram this morning to The Herald from the interstate commerce commission. The telegram follows:

(Night Letter.)
Washington, D. C., July 28, 1914.
El Paso Herald Publishing Co.,
El Paso, Texas:

Replying to the telegram from your office and certain El Paso business institutions, dated yesterday, in view of the situation as outlined to us therein, order #223 denying agent Leland's application 1583 has been set aside and the application for reduction of carload minimum to 20,000 pounds has been granted today, on one day's notice. Agent Leland has been notified by wire.

G. B. McGinty,
Secretary Interstate Commerce Commission.

The order for the rehearing was secured as a result of the efforts of senator Morris Sheppard and congressman W. R. Smith.

"LAW OF FLIGHT" NOT USED BY U. S. FORCES

Washington, D. C., July 29.—Congress received Monday from secretary of the navy Daniels the findings of a court martial which investigated charges that the "law of flight" had been applied to Mexicans by United States forces at the time of the occupation of Veracruz. It was claimed the alleged acts were committed by blue-jackets under command of ensign Richardson, of the battleship Arkansas.

The finding was that "it was established beyond any doubt that the law of flight was not in any sense applied by any of the United States forces at Veracruz at any time."

The investigation grew out of the case of Fred Boalt, an American correspondent at Veracruz, accredited to the newspaper Enterprise association, who sent dispatches alleging the law of flight had been applied to Mexicans.

Secretary Garrison revoked the credentials of Boalt as a correspondent and ordered his deportation from Veracruz under the new army regulations governing war correspondents. That feature of the case is still pending. Boalt testified that naval officers gave him the information. Other witnesses refuted it.

CLOSE SEARCH IS MADE AT BRIDGES

Searching by United States soldiers at the international bridges has been made as thorough as it was in the old days of the Orozco revolution. The soldiers are making careful searches of all persons going to Mexico. The search is not the same superficial one that has been made in the recent past, but is done under the personal supervision of an officer and even includes the examination of the shoes if there is any suspicion that ammunition might be concealed there. The searching, which is now being done by the military, delays the Mexico cars until none of them have been run on the regular schedule since Monday. Women inspectors are also stationed at the bridges to make inspections of women passengers, as two women were discovered to be smuggling ammunition Monday night.

ANTI-RING MEN LOSE INSURANCE IN THE SCHOOLS

President Says the Matter Is Handled by Finance Committee; Holiday Chairman.

Notice has been given insurance agents who supported the "anti-ring" ticket at the recent election to cancel all insurance which they carried on the city school property.

The notice was issued Tuesday and the list of agents included seven of the leading firms of the city. No reason was given for the cancellation of these policies and one agent has written to the school board asking for a reason why the policies which he held were canceled. An agent was notified to cancel $25,000 worth of insurance on the school buildings. Another had his policies returned with the formal request that all insurance carried by his company be canceled at once, as other policies were being taken out in another company. It is estimated that more than $100,000 worth of insurance on the school property has been canceled since the election.

In all cases the insurance agents who lost the city school business supported one or more candidates on the "anti-ring" ticket. One insurance firm is composed of "ring-men" and a "ring" man. The "ring" man was not able to save the business for the firm and it was canceled along with that held by the men who worked openly for Eugene Harris and the other opposition candidates. One insurance agent, when notified that his insurance had been canceled, asked by whose orders it was done, and was informed he says that Robert Holliday had ordered it. Holliday is president of the Young Men's Democratic club, is employed in the office of Turner & Burgess, and is a member of the school board.

"If any policies have been canceled, they have been canceled by the auditor without instructions from me," said E. Morgan, president of the school board, Wednesday morning. "No cancellations have been ordered by the board that I know of. The redistribution of the insurance among local insurance companies has been considered by the board and referred to the finance committee. Some of the agents have large amounts of insurance and others have none. It is the intention of the board to apportion the insurance so that all may have some of the business, providing the company is reliable and the rates are the same."

The finance committee consists of Robert Holliday, chairman; E. R. McClintock and Mr. Morgan. Mr. Holliday is president of the city and could not be seen for a statement. Mr. McClintock is also out of the city.

Protests against this business boycott by the "ring" organization are being considered. A demand is to be made by the agents upon the board to give reasons why the cancellation was made two days after the election.

F. E. Sawyer, auditor of the school board, was asked Wednesday morning regarding a statement that the insurance policies had been canceled on his order. He was acting under instructions from the board when he notified the insurance companies; that is all I wish to say," he said.

FERGUSON IS GUEST OF COLQUITT TODAY

Austin, Tex., July 29.—Sam E. Ferguson, Democratic nominee for governor, reached here at noon today from Temple. He came here to confer with the governor and to attend to other matters. He was scheduled to lunch with governor Colquitt at the executive mansion.

SENDING ORPHANS OF REBELS TO SCHOOL

Charles Jauregui, an intimate friend of Pancho Villa, left here today for southern Chihuahua, where he will assemble 12 Mexican youths, sons of "Constitutionalist" soldiers who have died in battle, and conduct them to a preparatory school in San Francisco. Two of the boys are children of Gen. Toribio Ortega, a favorite in the northern division, who died recently in Chihuahua City.

This custom of sending orphaned sons of "Constitutionalist" soldiers to school in the United States originated with Gen. Villa and expenses are paid out of the army war chest. It is estimated that more than 100 Mexican youths from Chihuahua have already been placed in American schools by the northern leader.

CARRANZA OUTLINES PLANS FOR SETTLING ALL CLAIMS.

Tampico, Mex., July 29.—Carranza has outlined his plan for the settlement of all foreign claims arising from the Mexican unrest. The statement was made by the general to a party of 38 American business men of Tampico, headed by American consul Miller, who called to pay their respects.

Each claim against the government, according to the statement, will be settled by a commission composed of representatives of each foreign nation, having a grievance. An equal number of Mexicans also will serve as arbitrators. Mexican claims will be settled by a body made up entirely of Mexicans.

BIG SHIPMENT OF MEXICAN COFFEE RECEIVED IN EL PASO

Probably the largest shipment of coffee exported from Mexico since the civil strife began, arrived in El Paso Tuesday evening from Puerto Mexico, by way of Texas City, and then over the T. & P. to this city. The shipment of coffee comprised 13 cars, containing a half a million pounds and valued at $60,000, according to Funkel and Peacock, local brokers, to whom the coffee was consigned.
